

Hickory Grove Country Market

Hickory Grove Country Market is a family-owned grocery store dedicated to serving its community with pride and exceptional service. Known for their local ties and customer-first approach, Hickory Grove is a valued part of the community they serve.

Business Challenge

Hickory Grove utilized Facebook as their primary online presence but needed a dedicated website to provide key information in a more professional format. The website needed to be simple and intuitive, catering to an older demographic and desktop users. Additionally, they sought tools like an online employment application form to streamline their processes and a scalable platform for future growth.

Our Solution

We designed and developed a WordPress website tailored to Hickory Grove's needs, leveraging scalable themes and templates to simplify content management. We worked closely with them, providing multiple design iterations and incorporating their feedback to ensure the final product met their expectations. The site was built with a clean, user-friendly layout optimized for both desktop and mobile users. Features such as an online employment application form and easy-to-update department pages were integrated to ensure functionality and accessibility. Throughout the project, we prioritized clear communication and a streamlined process to deliver a website that aligned perfectly with their goals.
