Business Challenge

The owner of West Virginia Gun Company needed a clean and professional website to represent her business effectively. With a busy schedule and limited time to dedicate to the project, she wanted to continue using her existing Squarespace platform for its convenience but required assistance with updating content, writing web-ready copy, and sourcing visuals to enhance the site.

Our Solution

Imagi-tech provided expert guidance and support to help maintain and elevate the Squarespace-based website. Our team reviewed the site's structure and collaborated with the client to implement design updates and a new theme that matched her vision. We translated her notes into clear, professional web copy and sourced high-quality photos to complement the site's clean, modern look.
